Civic Engagement

Hunger and Homelessness Awareness Month

Students were engaged in outreach and advocacy through social media platforms. Guest speakers, movie talk-backs, and discussion boards allowed our students to engage virtually with content and local experts.

Who do students choose to serve?

GivePulse

With our pivot to virtual programming in response to COVID-19, students were able to access more than 1,000 virtual volunteering opportunities through Moravian University's volunteer placement platform.

Students come together in the spirit of service and develop lifelong friendships and connections. Despite heavy pandemic restrictions against in-person service, the students showed tremendous dedication. Over two semesters, 25 students served more than 1,100 virtual hours for local and national causes.

America Reads

With some ingenuity and lots of flexibility, we moved our tutoring program fully online. Twenty-five students chose to remain with America Reads, tutoring and mentoring through a variety of virtual platforms. Students tutored from their dorm rooms into our schools, families' homes, and the local library. Sites included:

- Bethlehem Area Public Library
- Lincoln Elementary School
- Marvine Elementary School
- William Penn Elementary School
